

MARCH Food DRIVE ● 2023

February 27 – April 9

Become a Hunger Hero and fight food insecurity

How to Host a Successful Food Drive:

Choose your team:

It's important to find a team of dedicated volunteers to work with as you plan and organize your food drive.

Set a goal:

Aim to fill a box each week at home or donate a specific pound goal to Neighborhood House. You can also create a pound and monetary goal. If you participated in the past, set a goal to beat your record by collecting the new items on our wish list.

Create a team or individual fundraiser online:

Because monetary donations are so valuable for our Food Support program, sometimes the most effective type of food drive is one paired with a fundraiser. In addition to your drive, host a fundraiser for Neighborhood House! Simply visit neighborhoodhousemn.org/march-food-drive and click the link to create your own fundraising page. Many times people will want to support your food drive, but may want to help somehow or donate money. This is an easy way to raise food and funds for the biggest impact!

Start reaching out:

Get the word out about your food drive! You can do this through social media, personal emails, setting a box up in a public space or high-traffic area, and personal invitation.

Collect bags:

Collecting paper bags with handles is a huge help—the food markets go through roughly 120 per day!
